

Institute for Regional Conservation

Upcoming Volunteer Opportunities

We have several exciting volunteer opportunities coming up this spring! Whether you're a conservation enthusiast, a student needing community service hours or a family looking for something fun and meaningful to do together, we would love to have YOU at these restoration events.

Visit our Website

Lake Ida Parcel Volunteer Day #2 Saturday, March 31 9 am -12 pm

Join IRC at our second volunteer day aimed at restoring the Lake Ida Parcel located in Delray Beach. Volunteers will help IRC continue to restore this important greenspace by removing invasive plant species and picking up trash and debris. We will also be prepping the site for planting natives at upcoming events by raking up dense leaf litter dropped by invasive plants.

Volunteers of all ages are welcome! We will meet at the Lake Ida Boat Ramp before shuttling participants to the site. All volunteers receive a free t-shirt!

To RSVP, click here.

For more information, click here.

Lummus Park Restoration Volunteer Day Friday, April 20 9 am - 12 pm

IRC is working with the City of Miami Beach to help restore portions of Lummus Park, a beach front park in South Beach. Volunteers will help IRC kick off Earth Day Weekend by planting a variety of dune species and pick up trash. A second event will be held in late May.

To RSVP, click here.

For additional information, click here.

George N. Avery Pineland Restoration Volunteer Day Saturday, April 28 9 am - 12 pm

Volunteers will help IRC remove invasive ferns and complete other restoration work at this pineland owned by IRC.

To RSVP, click here.

For more information, click here.

